SENSATION WHEN DEAD BODY OF MARTIN IS FOUND IN BUGGY

Then Explanation is Made Of Causes by Deputy Coroner and Sensation Ends

HAD RETURNED FROM DONORA

Elizabeth Man Employed as Driver On State Road Back of Belle Vernon Imbibed Freely, Story Goes—Man With Him Relates His Story.

Sensation was caused this morning by the finding of the dead body of Gordon Martin, aged about 60 years, of Elizabeth, in a buggy in the barnyard of Samuel Kelly, back of Belle Vernon, with whom he roomed. Then the story came out, and explanations were made that cleared up affairs pertaining to his death. Deputy Coroner H. W. Day was summoned from Monessen and his examination of the man's body led to the conclusion that Martin had died from alcoholism and complaints of old age.

Martin was employed by his brother, Giles Martin as a driver on state road work back of Belle Vernon. Monday afternoon he and another younger man by the name of John Arnold, also a driver, procured a buggy for a drive to Donora. They intended to start back in order to arrive early Monday evening. They did not arrive until 11 o'clock.

Arnold says he got out of the buggy and started to put the horse away, thinking that Martin was simply in a stupor from frequent libations of liquor, and intending to arouse him as soon as he had finished his duties. He says he punched Martin upon stabling the horse, and then went off to bed.

This morning at 5 o'clock, upon arising and going to the barn, Kelly, with whom both men roomed and boarded, found Martin dead in the buggy. His body was cold, so he had probably been dead for some time.

The brother of the dead man, Giles Martin was notified, and he had the body sent back to Elizabeth. Martin, the deceased, was a widower and has children living.

Harry C. Hepler and Harry Assenat, of the Keystone garage here, had a narrow escape and both are more or less injured when their automobile was struck by an East Liberty express car in Center avenue, in Pittsburgh, Monday afternoon. Mr. Hepler was driving the car, and they had just left a garage. They followed a street car a short ways, and this car slowed down. Mr. Hepler slowed down the automobile, and started across the tracks to turn the corner. Just then the express car approached rapidly, according to the story told and not stopping at the crossing struck the machine. Both men were hurled 20 or 30 feet, and the machine was considerable demolished. Mr. Assenat was the worst injured and was hurried to the Homeopathic hospital. He has two fractured ribs and possibly a fractured shoulder. Mr. Hepler also went to the hospital, and then came home, his injuries being rather slight.

FINANCIAL STRESS IS NOW RELIEVED

Enough Taxes Have Been Received to Put County on Safe Side of Ledger

DELINQUENT TAXES UNPAID

Announcement has been made by County Controller T.J. Underwood that enough taxes have been received to relieve the financial stress under which Washington county has been for the past two weeks. Mr. Underwood announces that conditions will be relieved greatly for the time, but that before next year some plan for meeting such emergencies as the recent one will have to be adopted. The county has resumed payment on vouchers and will continue to do so as long as the tax monies last. Mr. Underwood does not approve the manner by which delinquent tax collectors turn in money collected. He cites one instance in which the collector, who recently settled had not turned over the 1911 delinquent taxes. He had placed this money in the bank and had been drawing the interest on it for three years. The 1912 taxes had also been put out at interest, and the collector had had the use of it for two years. This practice, it is reported, is followed by other delinquent tax collectors in the county.

According to the controller's report for last year there remain delinquent taxes for 1912 to the amount of $22,738.64. Since the report was

1915 CHAUTAUQUA IS BROUGHT TO A CLOSE

Weber Male Quartet Appears in Final Musical Entertainment---Dr. Ernest Wray O'Neal Speaks On "Popular Fallacies"

The 1915 Chautauqua season in Charleroi was brought to a close Monday night after a week's successful session, the program being ended by the Weber Male Quartet of New York city, an organization of singers that was warmly received. Not the largest but one of the most appreciative audiences of the seven days' Chautauqua was present Monday evening.

Monday afternoon the last lecture of the present season was given by Dr. Ernest Wray O'Neal, pastor of the large Methodist Episcopal church at Joilet, Ill., and a widely known platform speaker. Preceding his lecture the Weber quartet gave a prelude concert.

Dr. O'Neal had for his subject, "Popular Fallacies". Whether the fallacies that in making a success of life brains can do without brawn, genius take the place of hard work and reputation serve in the room of character, are sufficiently widespread to be called "popular" need not be discussed, declared Dr. O'Neal. Each formed a string on which the lecturer strung a glittering array of beads of historical incident, anecdote and reminiscence tending to controvert the assumed fallacy. It was a typical chautauqua address, good for any time, place or audience, bound to entertain and amuse and remind if not instruct.

The Weber quartet program was not a heavy one by any means, consisting mostly of light and airy numbers. However, the program was much enjoyed, as was evidenced by the warm applause. The ensemble and solo work was splendid, and the vaudeville in which the quartet engaged was particularly pleasing, it being clean and wholesome and full of good comedy. Members of the Quartet: Fred Thomas, Marcolm Barnes, Robert Armour and Marlowe Jones.

Among the features at the Chautauqua this year as well as last was that of the story-telling hour. Miss Eleanor Stevenson was in charge of the children's hour work, and it was during these morning sessions, that her enjoyable folk lore stories were related. Good-sized crowds attended and listened.

In his educational lectures, Rev. Edgar F. Daugherty was well received. He discussed live topics in a live way, and his arguments will be remembered.

No definite announcements were made Monday evening by Superintendent J. S. Duxbury as to the possible continuance of the annual Chautauqua sessions in Charleroi, but it is possible something may be done to bring a return of the attractions.

Notice.

There will be a meeting of the Public Library Association in the reading rooms this evening at 7:30.

WOMEN MAY TAKE UP MOVEMENT FOR CHAUTAUQUA NEXT YEAR

TRAVELING SINGER GREETS LOCAL FRIEND AFTER A SCORE OF YEARS

Marlowe Jones, of Weber Quartet, and Prof. I. T. Daniel Have Surprise Meeting.

Marlowe Jones, the second tenor of the Weber Male Quartet, which appeared at the Charleroi Chautauqua Monday night, found Prof. I. T. Daniel, supervisor of music in the Charleroi schools an old friend whom he had not seen for a score of years, and a friend that was a friend of his father. Mr. Jones visited after the concert with Prof. Daniel and had one of the most enjoyable evenings he has had for months.

All the Weber Quartet are New York church singers. Jones was formerly a boy soprano in the vested choir of Trinity cathedral, Cleveland, Ohio, where Prof. Daniel was bass soloist for many years.

MUCH DAMAGE IS DONE BY FLAMES

Barn of Charles Ficula at Pricedale Goes up in Smoke at Loss of $2,000

VOLUNTEERS FIGHT FIRE

The large feed barn of Charles Ficula, at Pricedale was destroyed by fire this morning at about 1:30 o'clock. The fire started from unknown sources, and did damage placed at $2,000 or $2,500.

Ficula had been preparing to lay in his summer harvest crop in the barn. Already he had put in four tons of hay, and this went up in smoke. This was the only feed destroyed. Several of his farm impliments were consumed.

Volunteer fire fighters kept the flames from spreading to adjoining houses. The barn was located in a good section of Pricedale and the alarm brought out scores of residents. A bucket brigade was formed, but its work was insufficient to stop the progress of the fire.

Possibility of Session the Summer of 1916 Under New Plan Discussed

CHURCH FOLK INTERESTED

Matter May be Taken Up by Some Church People to Endorse Movement—Organization for Chautauqua Not Yet Affected.

Whether or not Charleroi will have a Chautauqua next summer is a question that is not being much debated. Under a new plan a number of women from different churches are taking up the movement, and may affect some sort of organization that will guarantee the attractions for summer of 1916.

A meeting was held Monday afternoon with representatives of the churches, the Washington Avenue Presbyterian, the First Presbyterian, the Baptist, the Christian and the Methodist Episcopal, and a reunion was reached to encourage the movement among the churches. Women will agree to sell tickets if men will agree to serve as guarantors, it would seem from the sentiment manifested.

J. S. Duxbury, superintendent of this year's Chautauqua laid the proposition of the Redpath-Brockway bureau before the representatives which briefly is that local people guarantee the sale of 750 tickets at the rate of $2 each. Women present at the afternoon meeting expressed the belief that nine churches could be interested in the sale of tickets this to include in addition to the five mentioned in a preceding paragraph, the Lutheran, the French Presbyterian, St. Mary's Episcopal and St. Jerome's Catholic.

TIRED OF DEMOCRACY.

They are just now firing quite a few of ovens in the Connellsville coke region. Firing workmen was the usual practice in that religion before "war orders" began coming across the sea from the foreign belligerents.

The "war orders" have made the coke region prosperous, but the prosperity is far from being general. The coke region prosperity is purely accidental just as the Democratic administration is accidental. War orders will end when peace is forced upon the warring nations, just as Democratic control will end when the people have an opportunity to express themselves at the polls.

Pennsylvania is proud of the coke region and its efficient and progressive methods, but the people are not content to have that particular section enjoying all the prosperity. They want their full share of business, and they want conditions so that foreign war will not be necessary to provide whatever prosperity they are able to get.

Even the coke region people know that the prosperity they are experiencing is made abroad. It is not provided for by present tariff legislation and is dependent entirely upon foreign conditions.

People generally are alarmed at the strong-arm methods employed by the Democrats in framing tariff legislation. They want tariff laws to protect both the wage-payer and the wage-earner. They want tariff legislation that will reduce the high cost of the necessaries of life instead of the Democratic brand which reduces only the size of the laborer's pay envelope. Prosperity in the coke region is gratifying, but prosperity spread equally over the entire country is much preferred. While there are thousands of prosperous people in the coke region there are millions of distressed people throughout the country and they are heartily tired of Democracy and democracy's tariff.

CLAIMS $20,000 ON THE CHARGE OF LIBEL

F. J. Foye Sues Lilley Coal and Coke Company for Large Sum—Makes Explanation of Matters Pertaining To Contract for Sinking Shaft.

In the county courts F. J. Foye has begun action in trespass against the Lilley Coal Company and John A. Austin, secretary of the company, to recover the sum of $20,000 for alleged libel. The suit grows out of a former suit between the same parties in which Foye sought to recover an alleged balance due for sinking a shaft for the defendant company. The case was tried last November and a verdict for $3,649.25 was returned in favor of the plaintiff.

In the present plaintiff's statement he avers that he was invited by the Federal Coal & Coke company of Fairmont Town, W. Va., to submit a bid for the sinking of a shaft and other construction work; that the defendant company, knowing that the plaintiff bore a good reputation, but smarting under the verdict above referred to, conceived to injure the plaintiff by writing a letter to the Federal Coal & Coke company, in which it was stated that F. J. Foye had had contracts from the defendant company, to the amount of $60,000, and that through carelessness, carelessness and error on his part, the Lilley Coal & Coke company had to pay between $8,000 and $10,000 for extras. A copy of the letter is published in the statement.

NEW EXPRESS RATES WILL HAVE IMPORTANT BEARING ON SHIPMENT OF EXPRESS

To what extent the new express rates will increase present charges to various points in this section officials of express offices are unable to state specifically. The new law will become operative throughout the country on September 1. The smaller packages will be most affected by the change authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The minimum charge will advance five cents. At present the minimum rate for interstate shipments is 21 cents, and the minimum for state shipments is 20 cents. These will be raised to 26 cents and 25 cents respectively.

Another effect will be to increase the collection and delivery allowance five cents for each shipment and to reduce the rail terminal charge at the rate of one-twentieth of one per cent per pound. With the increase of the weight of the package the collection and delivery advance gradually is reduced. There will be no increase on packages weighing more than 100 pounds.

Express agents claim that under the present system it costs as much in many instances, to collect a package and deliver it as the customer pays the company for transporting it.

Pasquel Fibanzala, wanted in New Castle on a charge of being a white slaver, was arrested at Monongahela Monday night by Night Officer Henry Bergman. Fibanzala lived there some time ago, but left and went to Ohio. He later went to New Castle where he is said to have plied his criminal trade. Dr. Osler on Tuberculosis

Sir William Osler, one of the foremost of living medical men, formerly of Johns Hopkins, Baltimore, and now Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford, says in his "Practice of Medicine" (1892), on page 249:

"The healing of pulmonary tuberculosis is shown clinically by the recovery of patients in whose sputa elastic tissue and bacilli have been found. * * * In the granulations products and associated pneumonia a scar tissue is formed, while the smaller caseous areas become impregnated with lime salts. To such conditions alone should the term healing be applied."

Many others of authorities have testified to the efficacy of some cure, but the success of Formalose and the success of Formalde Alternative in this and all other bronchial and throat troubles has be due partly to the fact that it contains a nine salt as combined with other valuable ingredients to be easily assimilated.

Wherever use of this remedy in numerous cases of tuberculosis — many of which appear to have yielded completely — it justifies our belief that it is worth a trial unless some other treatment already is succeeding. It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs. We have no promise concerning it any more than reputable physicians give promises with their prescriptions but we know of many cases in which IT HAS HELPED.

LAD OF FOUR AMONG QUARTET ARRESTED

Donora Sends Unusual Case To County Seat for Attention of the Juvenile Court Authorities—Judge Irwin Discharges Boys.

Four boys recently arrested and taken before Justice Walter Coatesworth, of Donora, charged with stealing fruit from box cars on the P. V. & C. railroad were before Juvenile court Monday. When Judge Irwin heard the details of the case, he declared that from the appearance of the lads they were not criminals, and probably did not realize that they had done wrong, inasmuch as from the evidence it apepared they had simply eaten of the fruit which had been stolen by other boys.

He said further that it was a shame that the youngest lad, four years of age, had been sent to court, stating that the law is clear and concise and that children under the age of seven years are not considered old enough to discern between right and wrong, and that they never should be sent to court.

The four lads were released and sent back home after being given sound advice by Judge Irwin, who explained to them that they had committed the crime of receiving stolen goods, and advising them that hereafter when persons offer them fruit or anything else which they know has been stolen to refuse it.

The boys belonged to a crowd of nine Donora lads who were brought into Justice Coatesworth's court on the above charge. It developed at an investigation of the case that one of the boys had a key which fitted a lock on a car containing fruit, and that he alone was guilty of stealing the fruit, the other boys having eaten part of the stuff stolen.

Amend section eight, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:

"Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation, except that any debt or debts hereinafter incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia for the construction and development of subways for transit purposes, or for the construction of wharves and docks, or the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of a system of wharves and docks, as public improvements, owned or to be owned by said city and county of Philadelphia, and which shall yield to the city and county of Philadelphia current net revenues in excess of the interest on said debt or debts, and the annual installments necessary for the cancellation of said debt or debts, may be excluded in ascertaining the power of the city and county of Philadelphia to become otherwise indebted: Provided, That a sinking fund of their cancellation shall be established and maintained," so that it shall read as follows:—

Section 8 The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, exceeded seven per centum of such assessed valuation, and has not since been reduced to less than such per centum, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation. The city of Philadelphia, upon the conditions hereinafter set forth, may increase its indebtedness to the extent of three per centum in excess of seven per centum upon such assessed valuation for the specific purpose of providing for all or any of the following purposes,—to wit: For the construction and improvement of subways, tunnels, railways, elevated railways, and other transit facilities, for the construction and improvement of wharves and docks and for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves and docks, owned or to be owned by said city. Such increase, however, shall only be made with the assent of the electors thereof at a public election, to be held in such manner as shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of said city of Philadelphia, at any time, there shall be excluded from the calculation a credit, where the work resulting from any previous expenditure, for any one or more of the specific purposes hereinabove enumerated shall be yielding to said city an annual current net revenue; the amount of which credit shall be ascertained by capitalizing the annual net revenue during the year immediately preceding the time of such ascertainment. Such capitalization shall be accomplished by ascertaining the principal amount which would yield such annual, current net revenue, at the average rate of interest, and sinking-fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by said city for such purposes, up to the time of such ascertainment. The method of determining such amount, so to be excluded or allowed as a credit, may be prescribed by the General Assembly.

In incurring indebtedness, for any one, or more of said purposes of construction, improvement, or reclamation, the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligation at maturity, the payments to such sinking-fund to be in equal or graded annual instalment. Such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking-fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred; and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges, as required by section ten of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of such work.

MATTRESS SALE NEWLY REGULATED

Health Precautions Necessary According to Recently Adopted Law

The amendments to the Mattress act of 1913 which were passed by the last legislature and approved by Governor Brumbaugh on May 1 have altered the law in some provision in which the meaning was not sufficiently clear in the original act.

The law was enacted to protect the public from danger of contracting diseases by the use of unsanitary and unhealthful material in the use and manufacture of mattresses. It was also enacted to prevent the promiscuous buying and selling of second hand mattresses, which may or may not have been used by persons suffering from contagious diseases.

Too often it has been found that mattresses, which have been taken from places where sick persons may have used them, have been sold without thought being given at to whether or not they were a menace to the health of the new purchaser. The chief offenders in this case have been second-hand dealers. It is also common knowledge that the material from this same type of second-hand mattresses has been sometimes used in the manufacture of new mattresses.

The law as originally passed by the legislature had its provisions so made as to prevent the practices stated above. After two years experience in the enforcement of this law, it was found advisable to have certain changes made which would not only assist in its enforcement but would also make some of its provisions more clear. Accordingly amendments were enacted at the recent session of the Legislature which provide among other things, the following:

The prohibition of the use of any material which might contain germs of any disease.

The prohibition of the use of any second-hand material unless it has been sterilized by a process approved by the State Commissioner of Health.

The requirement that every mattress be properly labeled.

In order that a mattress may be sold legally in the state at the present time, it is necessary that a label at least 3x4 1-2 inches in size shall be attached to each mattress with the names and addresses of the manufacturer and the vendor of the same.

If the mattress to be sold is a second-hand one, in addition to the above information, the label shall also state that the mattress is "Second hand," together with the date of sterilization and disinfection, and the name and address of the person or corporation which sterilized or disinfected it.

PLACED UNDER ARREST ON A SECOND CHARGE

George Crumrine, of Bentleyville, to Have Hearing for Alleged Attack On Ellsworth Girl—Previously Arrested for Bentleyville Trouble.

George Crumrine, of Bentleyville, or Vanceville, who was held for court about two weeks ago on a serious charge preferred by Samuel Nixon, proprietor of the Central hotel, Bentleyville, was arrested Monday near Bentleyville by County Detective Frank Mitchell charged with enticing a girl under 16 years of age to a house of ill fame. He is in the county jail in default of $1,000 bail.

Crumrine was arrested on the first charge in the darkness on the Pittsburg road near Bentleyville. At the time of his arrest he was in company it is said, with Dorothy, the little daughter of Samuel Nixon. Serious charges were made against the man and he was taken to the lockup at Bentleyville, where his life was threatened by an angry mob that gathered around the jail. He was taken to the county jail and then given a hearisg before Justice of the Peace John F. Carmichael, at Washington. He was later released on $1,000 bail.

It is said that the second charge against the man is in connection with an offense committed at Ellsworth about a year ago and which was brought to mind when he was arrested for the Bentleyville affair. No details of the case are known but will come out when Chumrine comes before Squire Carmichael for his hearing Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.
